

Diy Trundle Bed Design / Plans

Front view, Back view, and Top View

Measurements not shown so you can build to fit your mattresses. Remember top bed frame must be larger than the bottom to accommodate the trundle.

- * Notice the backboard is twice the height of the main bed frame.
- * Be sure to use screws that aren't too long so as to poke through the wood.

- * Be sure the height you choose for the main bed frame will leave enough room for the trundle with a mattress underneath.
